PUBLISHED BY THE STUDENTS OF FAIRFIELD UNIVERSITY

SUNDAY STROLLING TIME

SOCIAL CLUB TONIGHT

At the meeting of the social club this evening at 7:30 the members of the nomination committee, Ben Cariri, Ben Alaimo, and Julie Vasas will submit a list of nominees for the various offices and will conduct any further nominations.

Only the registered members of the club will be permitted to speak and nominate at tonight's meeting.

The topic of an outing, which was favorably reviewed at the last meeting, will be discussed once more, and final plans are expected to be made. Registration for the charter members of the club closed yesterday.

VACATION POLL

"What are your plans for the summer, after the June 4th finals?" asked our Inquiring Reporter. Some few commitments were made:

Jim Gibson: I think I'll write a thesis on Accounting.

Tom Davis: Oh, maybe an auto trip to California, playing any or all of the Golf Tournaments. NIGRO will carry my bags.

Ed Curley: I'll trap snakes with KROK.

Tom Fraher: Writing two novels will take up some time. One will be autobiographical dealing with my life among the Jesuits.

Don Angell: Thresh wheat in Texas!

John O'Connell: I'll travel to Florida with the American Legion Drum Corps, playing the lyre.

Francis Waters: I'm sailing on June 9th for beloved France. Naturally I'll catch up with my elusive Parisian accent.

William C. Ryan: Get up at 2:30 P.M. every day and play golf with FAHY till 6:30. The 19th hole will take up most of our time.

Jim Mulligan: I plan to spend the summer in Roget's Thesaurus. Charming country.

Tracksters' LAST MEETS

The Fairfield U. track team outran Milford Prep last Saturday, the final score being 96-8. Conroy and O'Keefe were lead runners; Joe Miko was successful in the running broad-jumps; Tom Riley and Ted Krolikowski took the spotlight in both field and track events. Next Tuesday the tracksters will engage Arnold College and on May 18th Connecticut State Teachers' College.

Dogwood in Bloom

This coming Sunday afternoon there will be an informal Reception for the mothers and wives of the Freshman students. If the weather is traditionally May-like, the famed Fairfield dogwood shrubs should be at the height of their bloom, along North Benson Road close to McAuliffe Hall, and on the margin of the lawn that sweeps down from the porch of McAuliffe.

At three o'clock, in Berchmans Auditorium, Rev. Laurence C. Langguth, Dean of the College, will address the guests briefly and introduce the University Glee Club. After the program of songs some simple refreshments will be served.

Rev. James H. Dolan, Rector of the University, will close the afternoon at four-thirty with Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament in the Chapel of the Immaculate Conception in McAuliffe Hall. The leisurely afternoon should come to a close at no later than five o'clock.

NEWS and VIEWS - Jim Keating

Prom reviews: I think we can all readily agree that last week's ball was the best yet....For some it was an entire week-end (lost?)....It certainly was a tribute to the spirit of the fellows considering the bids were on sale for only two days....Thanks very much to Fr. MacDonnell, Fr. Langguth, and the committees....I think the lay faculty should also be commended for their turnout.
