SARAH E. GORMAN

Attorney,
Commentator

Art and Law interact in many familiar ways. Art has variously been suppressed, regulated, protected and subsidized by Law; art has also criticized and commented on Law.

There is a sense, however, in which Art and Law function as autonomous and parallel ordering principles—and this will be the focus of the Symposium. A legal system satisfies aesthetic conditions, needs and perceptions. A work of art is a dynamically appropriate and just interplay of elements, a precedent-rich series of decisions. A good life, as the Greeks knew, is both just and beautiful.

THE PUBLIC IS INVITED WITHOUT CHARGE.
